

Claudia Castro
Invesco

Claudia Castro is a Portfolio Manager and Director of Fixed Income Research for the Invesco Fixed Income team. She has covered emerging markets since 2000, joining OppenheimerFunds in 2004 and Invesco when the firms combined in 2019. Ms. Castro has a special focus on the Americas and Africa. In addition to her work on emerging market sovereigns, Ms. Castro leads the firm's development of its sustainable strategies and its ESG sovereign infrastructure solution. It combines Invesco's Fixed Income proprietary ESG scores with specialist insight to build out qualitative assessments integrated into sovereign bond investing.

Ms. Castro started her career in the global securities industry at Morgan Stanley, serving in the global economics group. She held academic and research positions at various institutions, including the Belgium University of Louvain, the Central Bank of Spain, the International Monetary Fund, and the World Bank. Over the course of her tenures as an economist, political scientist, and financial market practitioner, she has covered a range of advanced, emerging, and frontier markets, focusing on political risk, policymaking, and capital markets. Earlier in her training career, she worked on various economic projects in Brazil, Switzerland, and Italy, at Companhia Vale do Rio Doce, Esso Brasil SA, International Trade Centre Unctad/GA TT, and Pirelli Coordinamento Pneumatici.

Ms. Castro earned a BA degree in economics from Universidade do Estado do Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a master's in political science from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, and a master's and PhD in economics from Columbia University, where her main area of research was international finance.
