10. Volunteer to Make a Difference with Children in South Africa – for Up to 4 People

Ever dreamt of volunteering and putting your holidays to good use? Cotlands, one of our supported charities in South Africa, is offering you (and up to 3 friends) the chance to do just that.

Cotlands cares for vulnerable children in residential and community care programmes in six regions in South Africa. They offer 'voluntourism' opportunities for international visitors to assist at their Turffontein site in Johannesburg.

Volunteering at Cotlands provides visitors with the opportunity to work directly with vulnerable children as well as assisting with support services such as packing and delivering food parcels, preparing meals, or assisting in the toy libraries.

International visitors are accommodated at Cotlands House, supplied with basic food provisions (own meal preparation required) and at limited times, the use of one of their vehicles. Apart from working with the children, visitors can also visit some of the major tourist attractions in and around Johannesburg including the nearby game park. The duration of the visit can be from one week to one month, and visitors are free to travel around the rest of the country at any time during their stay. Flights not included
