David Doggett
Morgan Stanley Investment Management

David Doggett is the Head of Emerging Markets Trading on the Emerging Markets Debt team. He is responsible for overseeing a team of traders operating 24 hours per day in global markets.

David and his team are responsible for trade execution and gathering intelligence on markets and new instruments. He joined Eaton Vance in 2011, where he began his career in the investment industry. Morgan Stanley acquired Eaton Vance in March 2021.

David earned a B.A. from Williams College. He is a member of the CFA Society Boston and is a CFA charterholder. He is also a board member for the Trade Association for the Emerging Markets (EMTA).