

Fernando Phillips
Marathon Asset Management

Fernando Phillips is a Managing Director and Senior Investment Analyst in Marathon's Emerging Markets Group focused on business development, financial and credit analysis. Since joining Marathon in 2006, his core focus has been in Emerging Markets credit, as well as special situations and restructurings of distressed companies.

Prior to joining Marathon, he was an Assistant Vice President at General Electric Capital Corporation where he participated in the underwriting of structured finance products, including structured equity investments, project finance, recapitalizations and leasing, for international markets. He worked at ING Baring's Investment Banking Division (Mexico), where he directed the execution of debt market issuances, led the credit application process for loan facilities, and participated in the structuring, sale and execution of syndicated facilities. He also worked as an analyst in the Corporate Banking division at Bancomer (Mexico).

He received a BA in Economics from Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México (ITAM) located in Mexico City and holds a MBA from Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University.
